SESSION OVERVIEWS

ACT WORKSHOP WITH CHAD CARGILL

The workshop provides an overview of the content included on the ACT and teaches strategies for mastering the English, math, science and reading sections. This workshop is valued at $40 but is offered at no cost to attendees.

AUTOMOTIVE SKILLS AND CAREERS

Join this hands-on workshop, presented by Nathan Dial, designed for young drivers who want to do more than just turn the key. You will learn about car maintenance, receive safety tips every driver should know and get your hands dirty learning to use basic tools and techniques. Plus, find out how these skills can turn into high-paying careers in the automotive industry.

Nathan Dial is a graduate of Oklahoma CareerTech and the Pontotoc Technology Center Automotive program, graduating in 2000 and working concurrently at a local Chevrolet dealership to gain on-the-job training. After graduating, he attended Oklahoma State University - Okmulgee, where he received an associate degree in the General Motors Automotive program.

CHICKASAW NATION POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION

Learn about college essentials like financial aid, scholarship opportunities, career training and the resources available to help you understand and set important career goals.

COLLEGE UNPACKED

Navigating the college journey can feel overwhelming. Whether you are a high school student stepping into the unknown or a parent trying to offer the right guidance, College Unpacked, presented by J. Hall, is your go-to resource, answering the questions you may not even know to ask.

J. Hall is an author, educator and podcaster from Oklahoma City. After more than 15 years in professional ministry, J. has spent the second half of his career in higher education, where he serves as dean of social sciences at Oklahoma City Community College while teaching sociology.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES EXHIBITION

Explore booths about Chickasaw Nation programs, career paths and colleges.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA ONLINE CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT

Through OU Concurrent Enrollment, high school juniors and seniors can get a head start on their higher education by earning college credit while still in high school. Concurrent enrollment allows you to explore areas of academic interest, challenge yourself and gain valuable experiences before graduating high school.
